In collaboration with
Lebanese Society of Obstetrics and Gynecology (LSOG)
Royal College of Obstetricians & Gynaecologists

September 7-8, 2018 | Monroe – Beirut

Welcome Note

It gives me a great pleasure to announce the first standalone meeting of the Federation of Arab GYNOB Societies (FAGOS), to be held at the Monroe Hotel, Beirut, September 7-8, 2018. The meeting will address “Women Health Frontiers” that are shaping women health in general, and Arab women’s health in particular, by going to the forefront of scientific updates and breakthroughs that are changing women wellbeing and future health.

FAGOS 2018 is aiming to set a cornerstone for clinical rigor and skill competence bringing international and Arab colleagues together to promote women’s health and wellbeing. This will be achieved through collaboration with Arab national societies and international bodies like FIGO, RCOG, and others.

FAGOS 2018 will work towards comprehensive engagement of OBGYNs with women and women health issues to not only to maintain clinical excellence, but also to bring more empathy, care, and wellbeing. In this regard, this year meeting is offering an exciting and motivating scientific program delivered by excellent speakers sharing their experience and expertise with us, and presenting the most recent developments and the latest guidelines in our specialty.

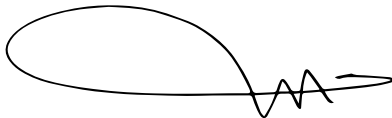

I now invite you all to mark your calendars and inform us of any mode of participation you suggest, and indeed welcome you to the charming Beirut to attend this important medical and educational milestone, hoping that you will take part in this unique scientific and social event at the doorsteps of the beautiful Mediterranean.

Sincerely

Faysal El-Kak, MD MS
